ORDINANCE FIXES RATES FOR SEWER CONNECTIONS

Next Monday night the Campbell City Council will adopt the sanitation ordinance setting standard rates for the use of all sewer facilities within the corporate limits.

Sewer rental charges are set in the ordinance for all premises having any connection available with the sewer system of the City of Campbell as it now exists or as it may be hereafter developed and enlarged.

Rates set for residential property is 40 cents per month for each single family dwelling and 30 cents per month for each unit of trailer court, duplex, apartment, court lodging house, boarding house or hotel.

Owners of trailer courts and apartments may avail themselves of the charges set for commercial enterprises by submission of evidence to the city council based on the monthly use of water by each establishment.

The commercial rate of 40 cents for the first 500 cubic feet of water used and 5 cents for all over 500 cubic feet per 100 cubic feet or fraction thereof will be charged for each unit of an office or commercial building provided with sanitary facilities and for each commercial establishment such as laundries, restaurants, bars, movies, ice cream parlors etc. not disposing of industrial waste.

For each industry, commercial packing plant or similar establishment, a service charge to be determined by the city council in accordance with the average monthly ly cubic feet of liquid wastes discharged into the sewer based upon the number of months during which the normal average discharge of such wastes shall occur as follows: first 50,000 cubic feet, $15.00 and all over 50,000 cubic feet 15 cents per cubic foot or fraction thereof.

Should the quality or quantity of the discharge detrimentally affect the use of the system by the public in general the council may provide for additional service charges for the industry making such a discharge.

For elementary schools an annual rate based on a rate of 12 cents per average daily attendance during the school year will be used and for high schools an annual charge based on the average daily attendance during the school year including night and adult classes of 24 cents per average daily attendance.

For each single family dwelling outside the Campbell City Limits having a sewer connection with the Campbell system or which is discharging sewerage which ultimately passes through the Campbell system a charge of $1.20 per month will be made.

For premises other than single family dwellings outside the city limits service charges will be determined by the council at the time of application for sewer service.

Permits for connection with the system for property outside the city limits will cost $10.00.

MARKET STARTS NEW ADDITION

Expansion of the Double AA Market on the corner of Campbell Ave. and the San Jose-Los Gatos Road got well underway this week when the wall on the Campbell side of the store came tumbling down to make room for an $18,000 addition.

Tony Oreglia, owner of the Double AA, said that they have started this project to show their appreciation for the business they have already received and to make shopping a distinct pleasure for the housewife who will be able to do all her shopping with just one stop at the Double AA.

In discussing the program, Oreglia said, "we have absolute confidence in Campbell and wish to prepare for and encourage future growth."

He commented that with their strategic location away from the high overhead and rent districts the new addition, combined with additional parking area will insure their present customers as well as future ones of a fine store, unexcelled merchandise, pleasant atmosphere, courteous service and even lower prices than at present.

Doctor's Hospital Plan Hit

WEST VALLEY HOSPITAL BOARD REJECTS OFFER TO PURCHASE SITE

After reviewing results of the West Valley Hospital opinion poll, district directors voted to reject the offer of Doctor's Hospital of San Jose to purchase for $16,500 the hospital district's site on Vasona Heights.

The offer is said to have been made two months ago prior to an announcement that the hospital's announcement it intends to purchase and expand the Foothill Convalescent Hospital at 676 W. Parr Avenue.

In the opinion poll, only 37 per cent indicated they preferred a privately financed hospital rather than a community owned facility within the district.

At the October 7 election, the polling places will be at the Cherry Lane, Cypress, Dover, Hamilton, Moorpark, Quito, Rosemary and San Tomas schools.

Probate Of Wills Topic To Kiwanis By Mayor Morton

About half the wills entered for probate in Santa Clara County had been drawn up by attorneys and the other half by the decedent as an original or as a re-written will first drawn by an attorney, according to Richard Morton of the law firm, Miller, Morton and Wright with offices in Campbell and San Jose in a talk Tuesday noon before the Campbell Kiwanis Club. Morton, who is Mayor of Campbell, was for several years an instructor on this subject at the University of Santa Clara.

A properly drawn will is less expensive when entered for probate. The law of succession applies if a person dies without leaving a will but this is economically unsound, the speaker pointed out.

Mayor Morton was guest of Joseph Gomes.

At next week's meeting Mark Thomas, city engineer will talk on engineering problems here. Guests Tuesday included Ray Townsend a new resident of Dry Creek Road, formerly for nine years a member of the Kiwanis Club at Wichita, Kansas.

Jet Crash Is Fatal To Campbell Man

Funeral services were held at 10 o'clock yesterday morning in the Rutherford Funeral Home on Winchester Road, for Robert O. Hall.

ROBERT O. HALL

26-year old jet flier who was killed Friday when his jet trainer plane crashed in mid-air with another plane near Bracketville, Texas. Rev. Cliff Winters of the Church of Christ officiated and interment was at the Presidio National Cemetery at San Francisco.

Many of his friends attended the services. A graduate from Campbell Union High School, Lt. Hall was a star football player, later being a member of the Alameda Naval Air station football team. He was graduated from the San Jose State College and entered the Air Force two years ago. He only won his wings three weeks ago.

Hall's widow, Dorothy, lives at 606 Stonehurst Way, Campbell.

The mishap occurred during a four-plane routine training flight from Laughlin Air Force Base. Hall's aircraft plummeted to earth after the collision, but the other plane managed to limp back to the air base.

It was Hall's second flight since his graduation three weeks ago from Williams Air Force Base at Chandler, Ariz.

In addition to his widow, he is survived by his mother, Mrs. Alice Hall of Campbell; two brothers, Col. Byron E. Hall, with the Air Force in the Philippines, and R. Wilfred Hall of Santa Clara and the late Isaac Reed Hall.

District Governor At Rotary Meeting

District Governor G. F. "Bake" Bacon chose the Campbell Rotary Club for his first official visit of the year.

At the Rotary meeting Monday Bacon complimented the local club on its past achievements and reported on the recent convention for incoming district governors which he attended in Lake Placid, New York.

He told members some of the history of Rotary and how it grew from one man's dream to a large international organization in all the countries throughout the world except behind the iron curtain.

Bacon sponsored the organization of the Campbell Club in 1948 when he was serving as personal representative of the district governor at that time.

Members gave a vote of thanks to George Miskulin for his fine coaching of the Rotary Pony League baseball team and to Don Witzel and Merv Willoughby for their work on the Little League.

There will be no noon meeting next Monday as members will meet at Villa Felice for dinner at 7:00 p. m. and the first club assembly of the year.

Plans for a shopping center at Hamilton avenue and the Los Gatos San Jose Road have been changed to a neighborhood type rather than a regional type, but its cost will be one million or more dollars, Ed Bean, and the law firm of Bean and Bergna, told the city council Monday evening. He assured the council that ground would be broken for it within ten months time and probably sooner as the owners and backers of the project are anxious to get started. They are Eugene C. Kuehnis, Mayfair Packing Corporation and others.

Bean said the neighborhood center would be comparable to the ones at Los Altos and Cambrian Plaza, of ranch type architecture. In the regional type, a major store would have dominated like the Emporium, City of Paris or that stature set up as a traffic stopper.

Another application by the same interests to rezone property on Kuehnis Drive from R-1 to R-2 and some to R-3 was to set up a buffer strip between residential and commercial properties, Bean explained, the R-2 to allow for duplexes and R-3 for apartments.

"We have a planned procedure for the general utilization of the area on a large scale, and our assumptions are conservative," Bean said, adding, "Within a half mile radius of the new shopping center in the City of Campbell there are 22 million square feet and allowing 15 percent of this for streets, curbs and sidewalks leaves fifteen million square feet for homes say of 6000 square feet ground space. This allows for 2750 homes having a total of 9700 people based on 3.5 average. There are now 1021 homes in the area or planned for early building. The average income for each home, conservatively speaking is $4,200 to $5000, or $350 per month a very conservative estimate.

"Of this income, the average family would spend $1200 annually for food of which $900 would come to the shopping center; they would spend $400 annually for clothes, $500 for general goods, $240 for recreation, or a total of about $2700 per year for every day essentials of which at least 39% would be spent in the shopping center. So for the 1021 new homes each spending $1053 per year would yield $1,075,000 business to the shopping center, but with the 2,550 more new homes the center would do $2,088,000 business volume per year, and this is conservative."

Bean pointed out that there is no other shopping center within the half mile radius and that the excellent parking facilities would be conducive to stopping patrons in highway travel. He said the Hamilton avenue interchange would allow for a concentration of homes and multiple dwelling population that would set up a strong and staple tax base for the city and that other Campbell businesses and enterprises would benefit from its presence here. The center would add to the esthetic value and be of a distinct credit to Campbell. He said that from half million to three-quarter million square feet would be under roof at the new center, and that it would follow a composite plan, architecturally complete.

Bean said there was much interest in the center especially from small merchants, and that at least two banks are interested. These would be new businesses, rather than re-locating some already established in Campbell. The project will develop a concentrated population area for Campbell, he indicated.

Mayor Richard Morton reminded Bean that Mayfair Packing once previously had the area zoned for business under County jurisdiction and that after 18 months and nothing was done with it, the county planners had it rezoned back to residential. Bean said plans have advanced positively.

Council closed the hearing, approved the plans, introduced a rezoning ordinance covering both proposals and told Bean the ordinance would come up for adoption next Monday after which it would become effective in thirty days.

Council approved annexation of Warming property west of Campbell where street improvements and new homes are already under way.

The sewer ordinance was also adopted.

EDITORIAL

BUDGET NEWS

Read today's issue of the Campbell Press carefully, for it contains the budget set-ups for the school districts, the financial statement for the city of Campbell and the schedule of rates for the sewer services. Very dry reading, of course, but each affects the homes in the Campbell area.

CALIFORNIA'S SPECIAL BLESSINGS

The populous, growing, roaring California of today—built in a bare century by the pioneers and those who came after them—is a marvel of the modern world. Yet we have only laid the cornerstone of a vastly greater and richer California of tomorrow.

Those are the views, not of Native Sons peering into the future through rose-colored hopes, but of hard-headed economists from other states who attended the 13th annual Stanford Business Conference last week. As summed up by Robert D. Calkins, president of Brookings Institution, and John W. Boatwright, Indiana industrial leader, California has three outstanding blessings:

First, a far-above-average population rise that is destined to continue as a basic stimulus to market growth. Second, a construction outlook that promises to be without parallel. Third, a basic position in the oil and gas industry that is in the vanguard of industrial and scientific research and development.

"We are experiencing a phenomenal population increase that will mean 40 million more people in the U. S. in 20 to 25 years," declared Calkins, "and the greater than average rise in California will continue." Boatwright, pointing out that California is the second state in oil production, said research has proven that the oil and natural gas industry is "historically associated with economic progress." He added that about 50 percent of the organic research today is being undertaken by that basic industry, and that it supplies approximately 70 percent of the organic chemicals in use today.

Those men spoke of their specialties in economic knowledge.

NOVEMBER 2 ELECTION PREVIEW

Ballot numbers, as required by law, have been assigned the 20 State issues slated for the November 2 General Election ballot by Secretary of State Frank M. Jordan.

The measure to divorce liquor control from the State Board of Equalization has been designated as Proposition 3.

Pension man George H. McLain's latest scheme will carry the number 4. It was with Proposition 4 in 1948 that McLain got his first pension plan approved by the electorate. This measure was repealed by an overwhelming vote the following year.

Proposition 5 on the November ballot will be the important amendment to main California's ocean-going ships on a tax par with the ships of other States and Nations. Since 1914, California's ships of more than 50 tons have been exempt from local property taxation as such taxes aren't assessed by competing ports and can't be assessed in California against foreign and out-of-state ships. California voters twice have approved this measure, in 1914 and in 1932.

Proposition 1 this year, as often in the past, will go to the $175,000,000 veterans bond issue to extend the veterans home loan and farm purchase act. The State program of home and farm loans always has been on a paying basis.

Proposition 2 will be the $100,000,000 State bond issue for school construction. The State program for assisting in the construction of needed classrooms in impoverished districts has been assisted with two bond issues in the past: in 1949 the voters voted for a $250,000,000 bond issue; in 1952, $185,000,001 was approved by a large majority.

Proposition 6 would set salaries of the State's legislators at $500 monthly.

Proposition 10 fixes the terms of Assemblymen at four instead of two years. Terms of State Senators are fixed at six instead of four years. Also limits future Governors to two terms in office.

Proposition 16 provides that acquisition of any interest in real property by any government agency, local, State or federal, shall constitute an agreement by the agency that it will conform to California water law with respect to such acquisition.

Proposition 17 would permit street and highway revenues collected by the State from sources such as gasoline taxes and motor vehicle registration and operating fees to be used for financing vehicle parking facilities, as the Legislature may prescribe.

THE FAIURE OF SOCIALISM

Things are looking up in Britain these days. The era of controls, so dear to the heart of the Socialists when in power, is virtually over. Meat rationing, the last food control, has gone.

The steel industry is being denationalized. Full employment is in effect, under a Conservative government—and inflation has ceased. Business is good; and gold and dollar reserves are high, indicating an early termination to controls over the pound sterling.

Across the channel on the continent the most prosperous country is West Germany—where free enterprise prevailed from the start and socialism never got a look in.

Once more, as ever and always, socialism has failed.

IN THE GOOD OLD SUMMER TIME

The Campbell Gambol

KEEPING UP With the Joneses is quite something to think about if it is the Fred C. Joneses, former Campbell service station owners, who have been trailing about the country seeing the most interesting places, lazing about on the banks of fishing streams and entertaining a lot of their friends. . . . back in Campbell they are now from a trip that started in January with their car and deluxe trailer which they parked and set up camp recently on the south rim of the Grand Canyon of Arizona, the north rim, in Bryce National Park, Zion National Park and Cedarbreaks National Park all in Utah within an 80-mile radius of each other. . . . two months in Yellowstone National Park as the weather became warmer and where they met the Everett Nelsons of Campbell, Crate of the Moon National Park in Idaho, then Lake Tahoe in California. . . . home for the fruit harvest season and already planning to go to Florida this Winter. . . . say this is the nicest way to travel as you can stop when and where you want, in places of beauty where there are no other accommodations. . . . says words can't express beauty of Bryce canyon as it must be seen to be appreciated. . . . but none of it looks any better than being among friends and neighbors in their own home town. . . . the Lowell Bensons too, are back from the lake shores of Minnesota where they were seeking escape from the midwest heat wave, say they went mile after mile without being out of sight of a lake. . . . Councilman Gordon Daum was back there too, but as a city feller at St. Paul and Minneapolis on business for his firm.

WINCHESTER HOUSE On the outskirts of Campbell attracts visitors from all over the country at 90c a head and strangely enough there are not many from this area who have been through it. . . . on Sunday with relatives from Downey I saw the place for the first time, walking as the guide told us, a mile and a half up and down itty-bitty steps and seeing the priceless crystals, blind doors, false windows, a seance room and other oddities conceived by the four-foot, eight-inch widow of the Winchester Rifle originator who was left some four million dollars in cash and a $1000 per day income. . . . and no income tax to pay half a century ago.

OL' SWIMMIN' HOLE In Campbell seems to be just off Casey Road in the shade of the willows, a pond of water released from Anderson dam to seep in the soil and raise the water table, but on these warm days don't let any one tell you the high school pool is not popular for there is a schedule of events going on there all day.

Apricot Prices Given For Valley

Top prevailing price for dried apricots in the Santa Clara Valley stands at 43 cents a pound for orchard run fruit, which dried cannery rejects are selling for less, according to an independent dried fruit processor.

The market news has reported that the valley's apricots were being bought at an open price with a minimum guarantee of 40 cents a pound.

Contracts for sale of canning apricots in the county were being made at $110 per ton for 14's and larger, with a 10 per cent tolerance for 16's, according to the California Farm Bureau. An accurate estimate is not available as to the tonnage contracted.

The apricot crop for the state was officially estimated on June 1, at 156,000 tons, or about two-thirds of the high crop of 230,000 tons in 1953. However, short deliveries in the early sections and the quick ripening caused by hot weather have given the trade a general belief that the crop will not reach the June 1 official estimate.

Party Honors Mothers-To-Be

A surprise double baby-shower was attended by 35 guests Friday evening for Janis Henley Sharp and Kathy Jones Ringer.

Janis' cousin, Georgia Webber was co-hostess with Mrs. W. C. Henley, honoring the two young matrons, at the Henley home.

The centerpiece on the lace-clothed table consisted of a yellow umbrella showering wee babies into the hearts of yellow-centered daisies that floated in an imaginary pond. The napkins were folded to represent little saucers—and scattered about, were paper three-cornered panties in colors.

The large cream-frosted sheet cake was beautifully decorated with yellow and green rosebuds and white stars with the inscription "HAPPY LANDING—JANIS AND KATHY".

Each girl, in turn, was told separately to retire to a bedroom where she would find a bassinette of gifts for the other. This came as a great surprise for Mrs. Ringer, as she thought she was keeping the secret for Janis' benefit only.

Mrs. Sharp, whose husband William Marvin, was discharged from the Navy in June has reservations with the stork in August. In October they will leave for Dallas, Texas, where they are to make their future home.

Holland-Marx Nuptials Held At St. Martin's

Baskets of white flowers decked the altar of St. Martin's Catholic Church for the nuptial mass uniting Miss Marcella Marx and William Holland, with Father Dennis Kennelly conducting the double-ring ceremonies.

Marcella, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Marx, was escorted by her father. Her bridal gown was of white lace and nylon taffeta, and a tiara of flowers, composed of seed pearls secured her fingertip veil. She carried a cascade bouquet of orchids, gardenias, and lilies of the valley.

Mrs. Ernest Moser, sister of the bridegroom, served as matron of honor, wearing a waltz-length gown of green tulle over taffeta. A fan of tulle, centered with gardenias, composed her bridal bouquet, and donned a tiara matching her gown.

Miss Maryann Lauzon, as bridesmaid, wore a similar gown in blue tulle with blue net tiara, and carried a fan of gardenias.

Mrs. Holland, mother of the benedict, composed all bridal bouquets.

Bill's attendants were John Marx Jr., Marcella's brother, David Larson and Del McCoy. The benedict is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Holland of Campbell.

Mrs. Marx selected a royal blue taffeta dress for her daughter's wedding and Mrs. Holland chose a blue and white bemberg sheer print. Both mothers pinned on orchid corsages.

Mrs. Jack Vitale served at the wedding reception held in St. Martin's Hall immediately following the ceremony, where approximately 100 guests honored the bridal couple.

Marcella is an alumna of Campbell Union High School and Bill's Schools were Bellarmine and University of Santa Clara where he was commissioned as a second lieutenant in the armed services at his June graduation. He will begin active duty soon and the couple plan to make their home near Fort Sill, Oklahoma, after December 1.

IN CAMPBELL'S KITCHENS

This week from the kitchen files of Mrs. G. E. Jeffers the Press brings you two recipes for your summer cooking. If you haven't already put up strawberries here's a new recipe to try.

STRAWBERRY PRESERVES
Wash and stem enough strawberries to measure 3 cupsful. Place them in a large preserving kettle, pour 3 cupsful of sugar in a cone-shaped pile in the center of the berries, but do not stir. Set over a low fire and cook slowly until the juice is slightly extracted. Increase the heat, then time them from the first indication of boiling. Boil 20 min. and remove from the fire. Pour onto a platter and let stand overnight. Stir occasionally. Pour into sterilized jars and seal.

When you are expecting guests during the warm weather here's a salad you can start to prepare early.

MARSHMALLOW SALAD
1 lb. marshmallows
3/4 lb. Tillamook cheese
10 eating apples
1 No. 2 can pineapple
1 cup whipping cream
Cut apples, cheese, marshmallows and pineapple into small pieces, cover with mayonnaise. It is better to let this mixture stand a few hours. When ready to serve whip cream and stir into other ingredients. This recipe makes one gallon.

Farm Census To Start In October

California farmers will be asked to supply information to Uncle Sam's census takers this fall. Some 30,000 census enumerators will begin calling at U. S. farms to collect information for the regular five-year census in October.

The farm census began in 1940 and since 1920 have been taken every five years. They used to be done in January. Now Congress has decided that October will give the enumerators better weather conditions.

Information sought will be collected on questionnaires to be sent out by the Department of Commerce before the census gets underway. Each farmer will be asked about 100 questions. Many require only a checked "yes" or "no". Questions will be on such things as acreage, size of farm, tenures, crops; on whether the farm has television, a food freezer, a tractor, and on machinery and labor used.

LOWERED THE BOOM And down came crashing the south wall of the Double AA market building on Campbell avenue early Thursday morning. The building is to be substantially enlarged under one roof, so first step was to remove this concrete wall and barricade the sides with timber. The new addition is to cost $18,000.

SCHOOL BUILDING PROGRAM IS DEFINED BY SUPT. KEN McDONELL

By Maxine Baker

A major problem in operating costs is confronting most school districts today, and particularly those in communities of rapid growth, such as our area. The State School Building Fund does not provide money with which to operate the new schools, but merely provide funds to construct them and provide a bare minimum of permanent equipment. No landscaping is allowed with state funds and lack of paving creates a maintenance problem.

The local school district can make up these deficiencies only through their operating funds. However, all costs are up, including supplies, utilities and salaries. Yet, the operational tax rate ceiling of 90 cents per $100.00 assessed value is still the same ceiling established over 20 years ago, according to Ken McDonell, superintendent of the Union Elementary School District.

According to McDonell, School District eligibility for Funds are as follows: (1) Generally determined by inability to finance school construction needs under the legal bonding limit of 5% times assessed value of the school district. Strictly residential areas, the "bedroom communities" not a part of large cities, are usually eligible. (2) A state formula is used allowing .8 pupils for each home under construction, or completed and not occupied. This formula has proven adequate on an overall community picture. Each pupil from kindergarten through sixth grade is allotted 35 square feet of building space, and an additional 20 feet is allowed for each seventh and eighth grader.

Economy and lack of frills characterizes the schools constructed under STATE building aid. However, safety factors and particularly earthquake resistant features are insisted upon.

Considerable time is expended in making needed surveys, drawing up of educational specifications, preparing architectural drawings, filling out state application forms, clearing state agencies, and gaining approval of county agencies, such as Planning Commissions, County Superintendent of Schools, County Re-districting Commission, etc. A project is never completed in less than 15 months, and may take 30.

A priority system for granting funds is maintained by the State local school district to make repayment. A strictly residential school district repays only a fraction over a 25 year period. Because it is state wide, the cost is absorbed in the present state tax structure and is hardly noticeable. If industrialization occurs within a local school district, the amount of repayment would be increased but at no additional cost to the local school district taxpayer.

The Public School is an American heritage. It would seem foolish economy according to McDonell to stint on that heritage.

No man is born into the world whose work is not born with him. —Lowell

A new medical-dental building is now under construction on Cambrian Ave. near Union Ave. in the Cambrian Park area.

The new professional building which is being built by Dr. Edwin A. Oster of Campbell will be known as the Cambrian Clinic.

There will be office space for three physicians and one dentist and hopes are that the building will be completed by November 1.

Drafting on the project was done by Vern Cornish of San Jose and the engineering by Russell Fuller of San Francisco.

Leo F. Ryan To P O. Safety Meet

Leo F. Ryan of Campbell is to represent the Campbell Post Office in the U. S. Post Office Department's national motor vehicle accident prevention instructor's program, Postmaster Ira H. Grim announced today.

Ryan was selected to go to San Francisco for a five-day instruction course in motor vehicle safety to be conducted by the Post Office Department as part of the national program recently announced by Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield in meeting highway life-saving objectives recently set forth by President Eisenhower in his White House Conference on Highway Safety.

Under the nation-wide program, being conducted by the Department's Bureau of Personnel under Assistant Postmaster General Eugene J. Lyons, with the assistance of the American Automobile Association, pioneers in the field of driver education, Ryan will receive driving instructor's training. This training will consist of a comprehensive course in the techniques of safe postal motor vehicle operation.

Ryan was selected on the basis of ability, leadership, and personality traits.

This is the second major highway safety step initiated by the Post Office Department under Mr. Summerfield. The first was in May when the Department ordered that new contracts for mail-carrying trucks and contract highway post offices must contain clauses requiring contractors to comply with Interstate Commerce Commission Motor Carrier Safety Regulations.

Educational Day Observed Here By Adventist Church

The role of Christian Education in a world facing its gravest crisis was studied at a special Educational Day service at the Campbell Seventh-Day Adventist church on Saturday, July 24th.

Speaker for this special occasion was Elder Marcella Fayard from the Pacific Press Publishing association of Mt. View.

"We are rapidly nearing the final crisis in this world's history, and it is important that we understand the educational advantages offered by Christian schools," pastor Harold H. Hare told his congregation in announcing the Educational Day plans. The freedom of the Christian man is a bright light in a gray world," the Adventist pastor added and stated that "in this age when values are losing their sharp definitions in man's thinking, Christian schools face their greatest challenge—the building of good citizens who respect both the laws of God and man."

As part of the Educational Day program an offering to help increase the facilities of Seventh-Day Adventist elementary schools was taken in the local church and in all Adventist churches in North America.

Benefitting from the offering will be the church school at 405 W. Rincon.

Seventh-Day Adventists operate 190 elementary and secondary schools on the West Coast with an annual enrollment of nearly 14,000 students.

In addition the church operates two senior colleges, a school of medicine and dentistry, and four schools of nursing all in California.

San Jose Seeks Big Bite Of Duc Land Development

Jules Duc who wants to build a 500-home subdivision in the San Tomas Aquina Creek area on Saratoga avenue near Williams Road but who was given an adverse ruling by the County Planning Commission, is to be given a hearing Monday before the County Board of Supervisors. The problem concerns drainage.

City of San Jose officials say they expect to annex the area and will take care of surplus runoff as soon as it becomes a part of their incorporated area. They will point out that drainage can be handled by San Jose's storm sewers.

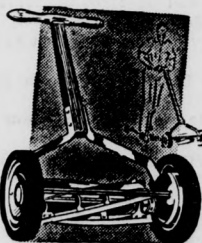

Such an annexation however would further envelope the Campbell fringe area and dip further into the school districts of Campbell.

The planners rejected the plan until the creek channel is improved.

PHILLIP COOPER and JACK KEISNER, son-in-laws of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Epperson of 845 Smith Ave., arrived in the port of San Diego recently aboard a U. S. Navy ship.
